

DRAFTER'S NOTE FROM THE
LEGISLATIVE REFERENCE BUREAU

LRBb0552/1dn

June 17, 2003

ATTN: Katy Venskus

As we discussed, the use of the words "The Susan G. Komen Foundation" and the pink ribbon symbol associated with the foundation has copyright and trademark implications. Based upon our conversation, this amendment requires the foundation to license such rights without a fee as a condition of receiving donations under the amendment, rather than setting up a funding structure for payment of such licensing fees.

Some of the language and contents of this amendment (including verification that the foundation is a nonprofit entity) is based upon information obtained from the Susan G. Komen Breast Cancer Foundation website, www.komen.org/sgk.

For reasons of expedience, the amendment is prepared such that DOT makes donation arrangements with the foundation. If you would prefer that DHFS or another agency do so, please let me know.

Please advise if you would like any of the descriptive language in the amendment changed.
